

Dalcroze Eurhythmics Professional Development Workshop

A Half-Day Workshop for Music and Performing Arts Professionals

Date: Sunday, September 27

Time: 1:30 PM – 4:30 PM

Venue:

Ballet BC – East Studio (Granville Island)

1286 Cartwright Street

Vancouver, BC V6H 3R8

Instructor:

Cheng-Feng Lin

Diplôme Supérieur (Institut Jaques-Dalcroze)

Workshop Description

Join us for an engaging and experiential introduction to Jaques-Dalcroze Eurhythmics, an internationally recognized approach to music education that develops musicianship through movement, active listening, singing, and improvisation.

Schedule:

1:30-2:25 - Rhythmics

2:30-3:25 - Solfège

3:30-4:15 - Improvisation

4:15-4:30 - Q&A

Through the collective experience, participants will deepen their sense of rhythm, strengthen the connection between music and movement and discover new approaches to artistic practice and teaching.

No prior Dalcroze experience is required.

Other information:

Paid parking is available next to the venue. Please wear comfortable clothing and come prepared to move; barefoot, grippy socks, or soft-soled dance shoes are recommended. Bring water and note-taking materials if desired.

Registration Information

Workshop Rates

Early Bird Registration (before August 15, 2026): $95 CAD

Standard Rate: $120 CAD

Space is limited. Early registration is encouraged.

To register and for payment options, please complete the online registration form

Bring Dalcroze to Your Community!

Dalcroze Canada is excited to bring this workshop to Vancouver and connect with the vibrant community of musicians, educators, and performing arts professionals on Canada's West Coast.

As we continue to expand access to Dalcroze-inspired learning across the country, we welcome partnerships with schools, arts organizations, universities, conservatories, dance institutions, and community groups interested in hosting workshops, professional development sessions, or educational events.

To explore how Dalcroze Canada can bring engaging and transformative programming to your community, please contact us at info@dalcrozecanada.com